

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

THE THEATRE SEASON

is underway and we are always gratified to realize how much of this is available to those willing to travel a few miles.

This week's mail brought a notice from the Little Theatre which for its seventeenth season will have four delightful presentations, "Auntie Mame," "Ondine," "Under the Yum Yum Tree" and "Tea and Sympathy." Can't think of a nicer group, and the price is equally nice. This cultural group has a reputation for very professional performances, sometimes even more so than the so-called "professionals."

A little theater here will be two plays in Enterprise which are being sponsored by the Altrusa Club, Town and Gown Theatre of Birmingham will bring "Bye, Bye, Birdie" directed and choreographed by Gene Bay.

On February 15 Town and Gown under the production guidance of James Hatcher will present "Bus Stop," a comedy. After the show, for the holders of patron tickets, there will be a party at the Recreation Center which last year proved most delightful as various members of the cast staged impromptu numbers.

These latter two are intended to attend as we thoroughly enjoyed last year's "The Man Who Came to Dinner." James Hatcher, as you may recall, is originally from Enterprise and several years ago directed the "Miss Altrusa" contest, which gives its winner a great deal of confidence.

BIRTHDAYS. GALORE filled the past few weeks. And if you are Russell Cash riding on the running board of an "A" model which was pulling a trailer loaded down with laughing youngsters, you were witnessing son Russell's fourth birthday treat.

James and Russell had really gone all out to decorate for their older son's festive day and used a Halloween theme. Streamers and balloons in those colors adorned the car and the carport of the house.

Spectators say that Mr. J. H. Cain, owner and driver of the antique car, had as much fun as the twenty-five children who were waving and smiling to everyone around the square.

Eight years old on September 28th was Ricky Rainer, son of Jo Anne and Freddie Rainer and our new neighbor. Ricky invited five little boys to come to his house for football and a weiner roast. What could be nicer!

Gypsy Lynn Morrow, miniature likeness of her father Lake Lubert Morrow, was two years old on September 27th and shared her cake with family and neighbors.

On last Saturday afternoon we deposited our daughter at Ginette and J. Doug Kendrick's home where twenty-six other children were romping through the pine straw and leaves of the sheltered side yard.

The towering pines overhead and cast shadows in the sun set. The coals of the fire glowed cheerily as J. Doug directed the children in roasting weiners and marshmallows. And evening was settling down in soft showers as they all sang "Happy Birthday" to six year old Ginna.

A MOST INTERESTING NOTE from Bristol, Tennessee had us puzzled until we saw Jim Iowdin's signature. (Don't it stun you that although school teachers see hundreds of papers each year, they recognize a former pupil's handwriting?)

Jim writes that he is happily settled in Bristol, where he and his father-in-law direct the Akard Funeral Home. And what a beautiful place it is as pictured on Jim's letterhead. It was interesting to hear from Jim and we do hope he and his "two future" (lana cheerleaders) will come by to visit, as he suggested. We thought it quite nice of him to take the time to write.

ANICE INVITATION came to us to attend Governor's Day at Marion Military Institute and we were sorry to miss it. The program sounded most interesting and included an Honor Guard, 19-gun salute and a show by the White Knights precision drill team. Have always tried to get husband Bob to attend some of these functions at the Alma Mater, but haven't succeeded, yet.

A BRIEF CHAT with Alvin Ziglar was interesting as always. She told us that she has a new granddaughter born October 3rd to Jeanne and Erskine.

She has a new granddaughter, born October 3rd to Jeanne and Erskine Ziglar in Florida. And this new little girl has the pretty Auburn hair that typifies this family. We hope she also inherited her parent's sweet dispositions, as they are two of our favorite people.

NEWS IN BRIEF. All the talk now is of Brownie troops and their leaders. This dedicated group spent several days in Enterprise last week at a training course. And the young brownies are eagerly awaiting their new uniforms.

Saw Sylvia Brown and Janeria (Honsaly) McCollough waiting at the Legion Hall for their dancing daughters. Mrs. Claude Fleming looking very pretty in an outfit of blue with matching hat and driving off to attend a garden club meeting. Only to return a few minutes later to deposit a furry kitten that had snuggled down to sleep in her car. Mrs. T. T. Rhodes told us that Judy Larkins is really enjoying her teaching in Colorado this year as Colorado is a delightful state. Do put aside time to read Anya Seyton's latest novel, Devil Water. It is a wonderful picture of 18th century life in England and the colonies, dealing particularly with the Stuart line.

And written in the author's refreshingly natural style.

GOOD NEWS for all of you with a "green thumb." The Alabama Garden Club has adopted as its civic project of the year, the beautification of the lawns in Elba. One lawn will then be selected as the winner of the "Lawn of the Month" award by a panel of judges chosen from various civic clubs. This lawn will then be honored by having a brass plaque bearing the words "Lawn of the Month" placed on it.

When we talked to Betty Dersay about this, she stressed the fact that everyone is eligible, that the judging will be based on neatness, amount of improvement, etc. and not on the amount of money spent. This sounds like an exciting way to bring more beauty to our town and to reward those diligent gardeners who work so hard. This began in November.

I do think we ought to give a vote of thanks to this group of ladies. They have certainly improved the appearance of the square and the roses at the cemetery were admired by all.

Just what they plan to work on the approaches to Elba, let's do cooperate.

HAVE YOU TALKED to Ida Kimney about her trips around the state as president of the Alabama Medical Auxiliary. She has had such wonderful trips to Montgomery, Birmingham, Chicago and last week was in Point Clear, Alabama where she stayed at the fabulous Grand Hotel. At this meeting she attended a luncheon in the Lagoon Room and thoroughly enjoyed a fashion show at hats.

Several weeks ago, Ida was in Hamilton meeting with the Marion County Auxiliary and here she had the chance to visit with Virginia Roberts, a school friend she hadn't seen since in years. Ida told us that this medical group has several nurses' scholarships and is doing a grand job.

The future will find Madam President in Jasper on October 23rd, Decatur on the 25th, Huntsville in November, and the state meeting in Dothan in January, certainly many, many others. Sounds like Ida is doing a grand job. And do get her to tell you about flying home from Chicago via Miami!

MAN DENIES FINDING GOD

Has Harrison Y. Kahlendorf, 43, found God? Some observers say yes. Mr. Kahlendorf says no.

The circumstances are these: Four months ago Mr. Kahlendorf was indifferent to religion. He was also weary of worry, and hungry for hope. One Sunday he "just happened" to go to Church. The Christian Truth came to Harrison Y. Kahlendorf as good news, and it began to change his life.

Today there is new happiness in his home, new warmth in his friendships, new challenge in his job. And every day he is discovering adventure, opportunity and blessing he never dreamed of before.

Does all this mean that Harrison Y. Kahlendorf has found God? Some observers say yes. Taking issue with them, Mr. Kahlendorf told our reporter:

"It was I who had been hiding... God found ME!"

The Church is the greatest factor in each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

RAMBLING ROSES AND FLYING BRICKS

BY EARL TUCKER THOMASVILLE, ALABAMA

Although it is several weeks before Thanksgiving Day, it is time to start getting ready for the occasion. People make elaborate plans for Easter and Christmas but each year Thanksgiving sort of slips up on us and we have a tough time trying to think of all the good things that have happened to us during the preceding twelve months.

What I have been doing on Thanksgiving past is to keep thinking of little things that I should be grateful for and all during the day I have to go back to the Good Lord and tell Him to add this or that. On a Thanksgiving day when He's powerfully busy listening to so many people all over the country, it appears to me that maybe all of us should start now making a list of all our blessings and have them down in black and white when November 22 rolls around. By doing this we can go off hunting for eat's big meal or listen to relatives jabber at family reunions without constantly thinking of something we overlooked that we should have been thankful for.

With this thought in mind, I have placed a little notebook on a table beside my bed and after I retire at night I spend a few minutes writing down the good things that have come my way and I get up and jot them down. Sometimes during the night, when I wake up mentally, I think of several more things that should be written down in the book. Last night, for instance, I got to thinking about thankful we are in this country that we don't have any more Kennedys than we already have, which is sure enough, but it could be a lot worse. Our younger generation can probably outlive 'em, although there is no hope for the older folks. All we can do is to try to get used to 'em, like niggers and English sparrows.

While space doesn't permit me to list all the things I have already written down to tell the Lord about and thank Him for, I will mention a few of the more important items. Not once during the past year did I break any glass or break any bones and the only time I had when a family physician was when I met him on the street and asked him what was good for a cold and he said darned if he knew and he did not charge me anything for the street call, which is better than anything Medicare has to offer.

On the financial side, I did not make any money, but I managed to keep the collectors from the easy-payment companies from repossessing my refrigerator, television set and automobile. During the year I paid the last monthly payment on an aluminum carport and I am thankful I will not get any more insulating notes from at least one finance company.

I am also thankful for the new aches and pains I feel every day. They make me forget the old ones. I am thankful, too, that I can still put a cricket on a fishhook and see the cork when it goes down. I am grateful that my vision is good enough to aim and shoot in the general direction of a deer or turkey. I am thankful for the friendship of my boat paddler on Hal's Lake, who causes me to forget the trivial worries of every day life, that I can watch the tide go in and out, that I can hear the songs of birds at night and glimpse a million stars through panes.

Coffee County Teachers' Groups Reveal Enthusiasm

During the pre-school workshop, the Coffee County Teachers Association initiated areas for study for the current school year 1962-63. The meeting held on October 11 at New Brookton High School revealed that much had been accomplished already in launching the year's program.

Reports received by the public relations chairman from the groups show that much enthusiasm had been aroused over the various group studies. Research has been made with post and current literature. Contacts have been made with other school systems within the state and in other states regarding practices about which teachers and parents are concerned.

The teachers feel that the areas and procedures for the year's study will be of great value to the Coffee County schools and will enrich their own teaching, guide them in public relations practices considerably.

The special interest groups and their objectives are as follows:

I. How to Teach Reading. Chairman, Adlene Jones. A. Effective teaching of Phonics. B. Reading for meaning. C. Reading skills. D. Encouragement of pleasure reading, etc.

II. School Law. Chairman, Leon Hornsby. Objectives, the study of law concerning: A. Teacher liability. B. Teacher contracts. C. Teacher tenure. D. Minimum salary schedule.

New Brookton Chapter FHA Installs '62-'63 Officers

In assembly on October 2, the New Brookton Chapter Four Homeowners of America installed its 1962-63 officers at a most impressive ceremony. The officers for the year are as follows:

President - Carolyn Jenkins, vice-president - Nancy Helms, secretary - Catherine Speigner, treasurer - Gwendolyn Griswold, parliamentary - Gloria Roberts, historian - Linda Bowens, reporter - Edwina Bowers, and recreational leader - Linda Adkinson.

The table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with a vase of red roses, the flower of the organization. On either side were white candles representing the eight purposes, and in the center front was one red candle representing the flame of home economics. Spot lighted the background was the FHA emblem. The incoming officers were informed of their duties and responsibilities by the outgoing officers as they presented them with their officers badges.

Following the acceptance speech by the new president, Linda Folsom sang the FHA Prayer Song.

Pried fish will taste even better if you add a tablespoon of lemon juice to the egg dip.

A rubber jar ring glued to the bottom of a pie (or a loaf of bread) will keep it from sliding on linoleum floors.

A clean cloth dipped in turpentine and wiped over freshly painted enamel will remove some of the glare.

Jehovah's Witnesses Begin Three-Day Assembly Friday

Arrangements have been completed for Jehovah's Witnesses to begin their 3 day assembly this Friday at 6:45 P. M. in the old Waynesboro High School, 619 Azalea Street, Waynesboro, Mississippi.

According to James Pryor, president of the local congregation, the witnesses are expected to number well over 500 for the three-day assembly.

Pryor further stated that the purpose of this assembly is to help each minister to be better qualified to teach others about the "Good News of God's Kingdom." Matthew 24:14.

The public is invited to attend all sessions, especially the main lecture at 3 P. M. Sunday. This special lecture will be a prompt report on their soil if they get their samples in before the big spring rush.

SAWING AWAY FOR ELBA

BY SAM SAWYER

CHAIRMAN ELBA INDUSTRIAL BOARD

TO BETTER THE LOT OF THE MAN ON THE LAND

Lets go trucking for more money, a shorter run, still time for fun.

This spring our first attempt at truck farming was produced in the trade area of Elba. A round $400,000 worth of fresh purple hull peas at local market prices.

I hope plans are being made now for a much larger sum next spring, lets say at least $750,000 to $1,000,000.

Mr. Farmer, it will pay you to check into this if you were not in on this spring crop of purple hull peas. We have one of the garden spots of the country here round Elba for truck farming.

You realize as well as I that you cannot do this for your self, that we must all work together to promote this undertaking. The sooner we get started the sooner we will establish a market, get contracts, agreed on prices, acreage allotment, etc.

With our rivers, creeks, lakes, ponds, springs, wells, etc., we have a natural for irrigation for truck farming.

We have lowlands, flats, valleys for producing vegetables in great volume at a minimum cost. Please don't hold me responsible for the pledge I promise but I am going to do all I can to get the state to build us a farmers' produce market place in Elba beginning January 15, 1962, with every one's help and support in our community.

With small quotas allotted for cotton and peanuts each year I feel this is the answer to supplement our income from our soil. The demand for food products through truck farming will continue to grow much greater each year with many new households, through marriages and people living longer. An increase in population each 4,000,000 new mouths to feed for years to come.

Why not start now and plan to plant tomatoes, corn, peas, etc. to come off early so that you can get a very good price for local market. Also watermelons, cantaloupes. We hope some day to attract a food canner to set up an operation in or around Elba which would mean about $300,000 to $400,000 income for truck farmers in our section.

There is no reason we cannot produce large quantities of sweet potatoes, turnips, peas, beets, corn, squash, string beans, mustard, collards, okra, butter beans, asparagus, tomatoes, hot peppers, bell and pimiento peppers. You can pack the above items in freezer cartons and sell to the stores and cafes for resale, or sell direct to the home for later use.

If you would save your cuttings and other bottles and fill with good hot red and green peppers in lukewarm pure vinegar we can sell a very good quantity for you by the Sawyer Candy Company.

The above firm also carries bags and cartons for packing fresh, deep freeze use for resale.

DON'T MAKE ME BIGGER

DAN I IS George Washington Carter, the deeply reverent Negro scientist who developed some 285 products from the peanut, once told his class at Tuskegee Institute how he happened to concentrate on the lovely goobers.

"The explanation went something like this — 'One day in my prayers I said, 'Lord, I want to know all about the universe, how it's made and what it's made for.' I got my answer in a hurry. 'George,' the Lord said, 'my universe is too big for you to understand. You just go about your own business and let me take care of the universe. The universe is too big for me, how about a little thing like the peanut?' So the answer came right back. 'Now, George, that's more like it. You have something more your size. You can understand the peanut, so I will help you.'"

Worldly success depends on pleasing others. No one is going to win fame, recognition, or advancement just because he thinks he deserves it — some one else has to think so too.

One of my very good colored friends was building a brick embankment wall as you approach Lake Lorene. My brother-in-law, Henry Dorsey, came by, stopped and ask Ardis what he was doing. Ardis answer was "Well, Mr. Henry, Mr. Sam is got me building this brick embankment, but he is shore got me cut out on a pattern bigger than I fit."

But Ardis built the wall, and a job well done.

Sometimes, alas, peanuts are too.

I'm sure that the white, as well as the colored people of our community, will remember this great colored scientist and teacher for years to come. He did so much for our own section.

At this point I cannot help but comment on the fine relations that exist between the two races in our town and community. Personally, I do not think you could find a finer group of colored people in any town in Alabama than we have here in Elba. I'm glad we are acting and not talking about the needs of our colored people in Elba.

When equipped, they will have a new, modern $125,000 school system for better learning and training. I had the pleasure of visiting the colored school along with about twenty other people sometime before the new building was started, and I was very much impressed with the way they were taking advantage of the things they had to work with. The class rooms, even though under bad repair and need of a coat of paint, etc., looked about very neat, clean and bright, and students eager to learn.

As we move out of schools and colleges with our natural talent, intelligence and a wonderful education, none of these guarantee success.

Something else is needed. The sensitivity to understand what other people want and the willingness to give it to them. In order to get what we want, we have to give other people what they want.

Every home in America has benefited by what this brilliant scholar and teacher learned about the peanut.

Some men do indeed succeed in reaching goals higher than they could reasonably have been expected to attain. But by and large the big successes are made by breaking peanut sized things down into their component parts, and going on from there. The universe is too big for any of us.

LITTLE MISS VICKI TAYLOR, formerly of Elba, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor of Ozark, charmed an audience and judges alike recently to win the title of "Little Miss Ozark" from a field of 44 second grade children.

Vickie will represent Ozark in the "Little Miss Peanut" contest to be held in Dothan this week. She is the grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curry Taylor and the late Mr. and Mrs. Macon Johnson of Elba.

Legal Technicality Holding Up Work On Jaycee Park

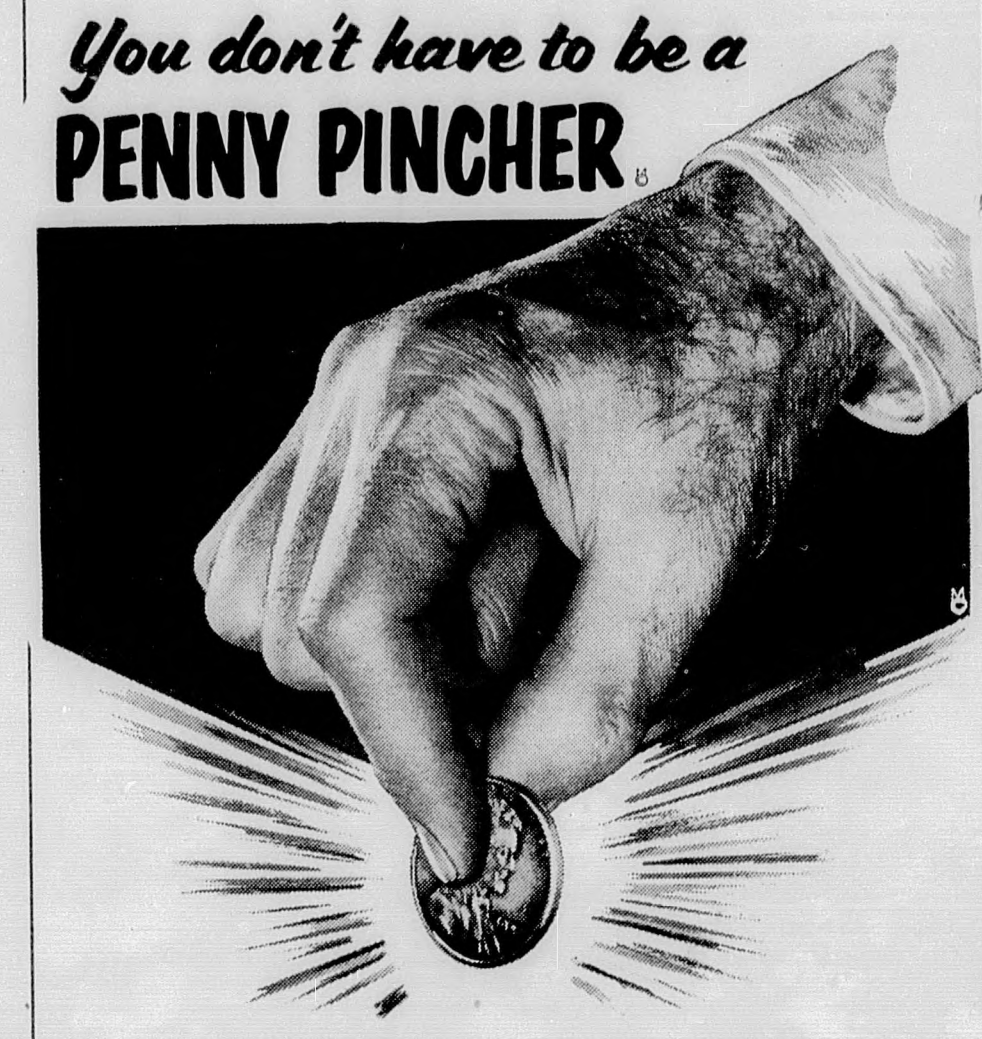

Charles Ellis, president of the Elba Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that the progress of the Jaycee park has been temporarily stopped due to legal technicalities involving the leasing of the land just north of Red Cook's Store on the Elba-Troy highway.

Ellis explained that although the city council has voted to lease this land to the Elba Junior Chamber of Commerce for park purposes, these technicalities must be cleared up before the lease agreement can be completed.

Work is expected to resume in the near future.

Getting ahead financially is not a matter of "pinching pennies." Quite to the contrary! Actually you can spend money more happily (because free from worries and misgivings) once you have embarked on a program of systematic saving. First step is to establish the amount that you reasonably can and most certainly will save each payday. Then see to it that these dollars go promptly into your savings account every week... before they have a chance to go elsewhere. You'll have more fun spending what's left... when you do your saving FIRST!

Head Elected UP District 111, Veteran's Affairs

Walter C. Head, Jr., Director, State Department of Veterans Affairs, was elected vice-president of District III of the National Association of State Directors of Veterans Affairs during the sixteenth annual meeting in Santa Monica, California, October 2-5. Other officers elected were Charles N. Collato, president, Massachusetts; James J. Murphy Jr., vice-president, Arizona; William B. Haines, secretary-treasurer, Ohio; and Peter Wheeler, judge advocate historian, Georgia.

The new District III vice-president is a career member of the Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs having been employed immediately after the department was created in 1945. He was appointed director effective January 3, 1962, following the retirement of Clarence C. Horton.

Head is very active in veterans' organizations, is currently serving on a number of state committees, and is vice chairman of the National Committee on Resolutions and Assignments of The American Legion.

As vice-president of District III, Head will have under his jurisdiction all of the southern states and also the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.
